EXPERIENCE

A Hong Kong corporate specialist, Anthony doesn't believe in shortcuts or off-the-peg legal services. With more than a decade's practice under his belt, he routinely acts for clients in commercial matters from IPO to M&A – but attributes his success to his belief that there is no such thing as “routine” representation. He takes a page-one approach to understanding each client's unique strengths, needs, and goals, before determining how best to support their next growth milestone and long-term success. It's a bespoke mindset his clients value, alongside his experience on all sides of complex transactions: he advises issuers and sponsors in IPO projects and lenders, borrowers, investors and companies in equity and debt financing, and is a steady hand in shifting regulatory environments. Membership of the American Institute of CPAs and the California State Bar and a qualified PRC lawyer round out his practice's international scope.

In his downtime, this long-time Hong Konger enjoys the city's food scene and its inherent contrasts and convenience: urban jungle next to countryside and mountains, with everything close to hand. Away from the demands of the markets, Anthony brings clarity and alignment in a very different professional art: he is a Feng Shui practitioner, dedicated to helping others find their good Qi.
